This year in the agenda of the event we have integrated discussions over the politics related issues in the healthcare systems of the country members of SEEMF. In an atmosphere of academism and professionalism, participants in the round table on the topic of “Challenges in the Healthcare systems- 21st century. Values and Principles” will shape the health policies of the future. The congress will discuss the topics of demographic breakdown and migrations of doctors. Participants will exchange ideas and will have the chance to draw from the experience of their colleagues in promoting medical science and practice as a factor in international relations.

We are expecting the Tenth Jubilee International Medical Congress of SEEMF to be a major event, bringing together over 1000 participants from all over the world - leading lecturers, prominent representatives of medical academia, members of national medical associations, hospital directors and health managers. The President and the Secretary General of the World Medical Association have already confirmed their participation on the Congress.

As usual, the Congress will apply for EACCME accreditation.

I kindly invite you and your colleagues to participate in the scientific program with presentations or in the poster session.

It would be our great honor to welcome you and your colleagues on the Tenth Jubilee International Medical Congress of SEEMF in Sofia, Bulgaria, 5th – 8th September 2019 and prove for the tenth time together that the medical profession is the only one to combine science, practice and ethics.

Sincerely,

Assoc. Prof. Andrey Kehayov, MD
SEEMF President
President of the Organizing Committee
